Schater Fair's Will.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 4.—Herman Oeirichs and his wife, and Miss Virginia Fair, are on them way from New York to this city to become-witnesses in the will contest. It is twenty-two months since Senator, Fair died and his son-in-law and two daughters are said to be very impatient over the slow progress made in settling up the estate. Charles L. Fair is contesting the Mrs. Nettle Craven-Fair pencil will.

Mrs. Oelrichs and Miss Virginia Fair are on record as being in favor of probating of the pencil will. Charles Fair was originally in the position himself, but not long ago George A. Knight, his attorney, withdrew his petition in favor of probating the pencil will and entered a contest against it. Mrs. Oel-richs and Miss Fair, notwithstanding the court record, are opposed to the pencil will now. For some reason, however, attorneys Loyd and Wheeler on their behalf have not seen fit to withdraw their petition for probating the pencil will.

The start of so-called "female complaints" may be a very slight thing indeed. It may be that in the beginning some small hygienic measures would stop the trouble. Certainly at this time, a little bit of the right medicine would stop it. When the trouble becomes worse, it is harder to cure, but still it can be cured. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will positively cure any trouble of this character. It may be absolutely relied upon. It adords immediate and lasting relief to a woman whose natural modesty has kept her from consulting physicians.

The whole story of the "Favorite Prescription," and what it has done for thousands of women is told in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. This is a 1003 page book, profusely illustrated, written in plain language for the use of every-day people, and gives in a clear and lucid way an immense amount of valuable information about health and medicine.
